Q04 Understanding Check

Question. A model is updated to maximize the fraction of generated programs that pass a test suite. Give one advantage over raw next-token training and one risk that remains.

Expected answer. The verifier directly rewards measured correctness on the suite; however, the model can overfit/exploit gaps in the tests, and passing does not prove correctness on new inputs.

Diagnoses the misconception that a verifier removes all incentive or generalization problems.